

Bursting Bubbles

From March we are running 'how to' sessions. The concept of the bursting bubbles series is to expand our thinking and ideas post-COVID lockdowns.

Date: Last Thursday of May, June, July and August.

Time: 5.00pm-6.00pm followed by refreshments.

Location: McGuinness Institute, Level 1A, 15 Allen St, Te Aro, Wellington. Zoom link also available.

25 May 2023 How to run foresight events

Roger works globally advising leadership teams on the links between long-term thinking, strategy and innovation, helping organisations to learn from divergent and disparate information to address complex strategic issues. He is a Senior Fellow at the Atlantic Council in Washington and an Edmund Hillary Fellow.

Register: To attend in person / To join by zoom

Roger Dennis

29 Jun 2023 How to transition from waterfall to mission-led thinking

Michelle is currently a Policy Fellowship with the Institute of Innovation and Public Purpose, University College London. Michelle has 18 years experience working within the New Zealand Public Service, her core focus being strategy, policy and innovation.

Register: To attend in person / To join by zoom

Michelle Pawson

27 Jul 2023 How to be non-partisan in a partisan world

James is the Clerk Assistant in the Office of the Clerk and has responsibility for the select committees, policy, legal and Ngā Ratonga Ao Māori teams. He has been with the Office for 14 years and has previously held roles as a Committee Clerk, a Table Officer and the Senior Manager for Corporate Services.

Register: To attend in person / To join by zoom

James Picker

31 Aug 2023 How to sharpen your political nous in government

Sally heads the Australia and New Zealand School of Government (ANZSOG) operations in Aotearoa New Zealand. She set up the New Zealand Policy Project, based in the New Zealand Department of the Prime Minister and Cabinet. She worked for seven years at the OECD where she managed a network of Heads of Prime Ministers/Presidents Offices from OECD countries.

Register: To attend in person / To join by zoom

Sally Washington