Government Strategy for Aquaculture

Portfolio Fisheries

On 11 September 2019, the Cabinet Economic Development Committee:

- 1 noted that aquaculture contributes significantly to regional economies, and that there is potential for increased productivity and value while transitioning to a low emissions economy;
- 2 noted that aquaculture development faces challenges due to inshore aquaculture having largely reached its limits, and the implications of climate change and biosecurity risks;
- 3 noted that the government aquaculture strategy promotes sector-led aquaculture growth, with an emphasis on open ocean and land-based farm development as avenues for future growth;
- 4 noted that the strategy is an all-of-government action plan, with the primary responsible agencies being Fisheries New Zealand, the Department of Conservation and the Ministry for the Environment, and that other agencies with responsibilities have been consulted on the proposed strategy;
- 5 noted that the strategy aligns with the government's vision for a sustainable, productive and inclusive economy;
- 6 noted that:
 - 6.1 there are no financial implications from the proposed strategy;
 - 6.2 an annual implementation plan will be developed and agreed between agencies, led by Fisheries New Zealand, and any resourcing implications arising would be addressed through normal budgetary processes;
- 7 noted that the strategy promotes a broader Māori-Crown relationship and recognises Māori values and aspirations across the government's aquaculture work programme, but would not alter existing obligations under the Māori Commercial Aquaculture Claims Settlement Act 2004;
- 8 noted that the strategy is not a statutory instrument and would be subject to existing regulatory requirements;

- 9 noted that any regulatory change needed to support the strategy would follow ordinary legislative and Cabinet decision-making processes;
- 10 approved the Government Aquaculture Strategy, attached to the paper under DEV-19-SUB-0239, subject to any final amendments that may be approved by the Minister of Fisheries;
- 11 noted that the Minister of Fisheries will launch the strategy at the annual New Zealand Aquaculture Conference in Blenheim on 18 September 2019.
